

Speaking Opportunities

Speaking : Overview

Speaking at a PricingFuel Day is an enormously rewarding experience. The most obvious benefit to yourself and to your company is to cement your reputation by demonstrating a continuing presence at the cutting edge of knowledge. Other benefits include profiling both you and your organisation; benchmarking to identify best practice and networking with your peers. This, combined with the insights from all the other speakers, represents a considerable business benefit that companies such as Robert Bosch GmbH, BMW Group, MAN, Start People, and Pioneer (to name but a few) have all realised in the past.

Our forum agendas are thoroughly researched with the industry ensuring that they uncover and address only the latest business issues. Our speaker panels are borne out of this process, made up of individuals that the marketplace has informed us are the leaders in their field.
